

The Hershey Region AACA presents the Horseshoe Curve National Historic Landmark

Altoona & Johnstown, PA

October 31, 2026 ~ One (1) Day

Join us as we travel to Altoona, Pennsylvania, the scenic mountain valley known for its deep railroad roots and the iconic Horseshoe Curve. We begin our visit at the Horseshoe Curve National Historic Landmark, a renowned tourist destination and the oldest train watching station in the United States. The site offers a dramatic, front-row view of the freight and Amtrak trains tackling a 220-degree bend in the Allegheny Mountains.

A lunch buffet follows at nearby Allegro Restaurant. Enjoy old-world charm and authentic Italian fare made with family recipes handed down from several generations.

For the afternoon, we travel to Altoona Railroaders Museum. Enjoy this interactive museum focused on the social history and legacy of the PA Railroad employees and families including life-sized dioramas and artifacts. On the way to the Altoona Amtrak train station, we make a quick stop at Boyer's Candy Outlet famous for its iconic Mallo Cups and nostalgic treats. Enjoy a trip down memory lane and grab some snacks for the train ride.

Our finale for the day will be a one-of-a-kind scenic train ride around Horseshoe Curve starting at the Altoona Amtrak station. The dramatic curve allows passengers to see the front locomotive or the tail end of the train from your window. We disembark in Johnstown where your driver will meet you to begin the journey home. A dinner on own stop is planned for the trip home.
